Halifax Explosions Told In Letter To Queensville

It was by the "grace of God" that the main arsenal was saved for had the fire reached it, the explosion would have been worse than the one in 1917, Mrs. June Fraser, Halifax, wrote in a letter to her mother, Mrs. P. Clarkson, Queensville, describing the fire that swept the Halifax docks and arsenal area recently.

"It started about 6.30 p.m. and sounded like someone beating a big drum," she wrote. "All of a sudden, we heard the most terrific noise and the house just seemed to jump right up." Mrs. Fraser writes that in the main arsenal, there were 15,000 depth charges and high explosives including a newly developed explosive called tetral. "If the fire had reached that one, there were enough explosives there to have cleared out a good deal of Halifax," she said.

Text of the letter follows: "I don't know whether you would be alarmed about us or not because I don't know how much there was in your paper up there about the explosions. They certainly didn't make too much of them here. But no one knows just how serious they were and we weren't there for the worst one either. It was just by the grace of God that the greatest of all the arsenals was saved. If the fire had reached that one, there were enough explosives there to have cleaned out a good deal of Halifax and it would have been a lot worse than the great explosion in 1917. There were 15,000 depth charges of 300 lbs. each besides other high explosives, newly developed, of exceptional volume called tetral and also nitro glycerine. They expected it to go all day Thursday and warned the people who could, to get out of Halifax. They had already evacuated all of Dartmouth. Everyone was out in the fields and commons and parks. No one was allowed in the houses on account of flying glass. Our house was just about four miles straight across from the magazine. We were in the north-west end of Halifax. We had had our supper and Joyce and I were doing the dishes at the sink and Bucky was in the laundry tub having a bath right by the sink. It was about 6.30 p.m. and it started like some one beating a big drum. Art ran into the living room and looked out of the window which looked out over the Bedford magazine. All of a sudden we heard the most terrific noise and the house just seemed to jump right up. The living room fixture fell down and just missed Art as he was coming out of the living room. It blew in the back screen door and of course we all ran outside. No one seemed to know what it was and I ventured in and got Bucky's clothes and mine. From the time of the first explosion it just came popping all the time. They said it was the shells exploding. When we found out what it was, Art wanted us to get out into a field, away from things that could fall on us because we knew that there would be more. The couple who stay with us have a car but Art had (Page 4, Col. 1)

Parkers, Navy Lead Camp Down Road To Defeat

By BERNIE GANTNER

Another game and another loss. That was the fate of the camp softball nine as they did their utmost to impress a Lions club benefit audience at Stuart Scott field last night in an exhibition affair with Mother Parkers of the Toronto Davisville League. For the fifth straight time, the soldiers were knocked into oblivion, rocketing them further below the 500 mark in the won and lost column. The score was 9-4.

What was expected to be a very interesting evening of softball entertainment turned out to be a sad reminder of the camp's two previous home starts. Not once during the disappointing contest did the Redmen show a semblance of their true form, much to the disgust of the many who took in the exhibition.

It was one of those things. In the throes of a very disastrous slump, the camp was guilty of shoddy fielding throughout the engagement, committing no less than six miscues. This handicap was mainly responsible for putting the visiting team out in front and once there, they refused to relinquish their commanding lead.

Parkers were right on the bit from the opening pitch until the last man was retired in the ninth. Excellent support was given to Red Noonan, starting hurler, and Joe Buda, who relieved him in the seventh. After the tea outfit had jumped into the lead with a four-run rally in the second frame with the aid of only two scratch infield hits and a lapse of the locals fielding, the Redmen kept picking away at Noonan's offerings until it was 5-3 at the end of the fifth.

Once the losers found the range, Parkers lost little time in yanking Noonan in favor of Joe Buda, outstanding pitcher of the Davisville loop. Buda tolled for three frames, striking out in the seventh. He allowed but two hits during his short stay on the mound. In the meantime, the visitors increased their margin, the final tabulation showing a 9-4 count with the camp on the short end.

Parkers played heads-up ball, out-playing the camp in every department. On the night's performance, they had a distinct edge. Tyson, Murden, King, Taylor and Gantner kicked in with some very damaging errors which didn't help the cause a trifle. The pitching both by King and McComb was woefully weak and will need improving in order for the club to hit a winning stride once again. Don Crozier and Nick Volpe were best for Parkers while Bep Guidolin and Johnny Callanan starred for the losers.

WPTB ORDER HALTS NOTICE OF EVICTIONS

Well-behaved tenants of self-contained dwellings cannot be evicted, not even if the landlord wants the dwelling as a residence for himself or for a member of his family.

Hon. J. L. Isley, Dominion finance minister, announced this order by the prices board on July 24. It is for an indefinite period. Outstanding notices to vacate self-contained dwellings are suspended and no new notices to vacate may be issued until further notice.

Back of this drastic order, which is not claimed to be any solution for the overall housing shortage, lies the necessity of relieving the anxiety and discomfort of many servicemen and their families.

Only the provision of a substantial amount of new low-rental housing can relieve the general shortage. Mayors and other officials of large municipalities are mostly reported as commenting favorably on the prices board order.

Almost without exception, however, they plead the necessity of an accelerated and enlarged house building program in their respective municipalities.

Mr. Isley cautions all tenants to take note of the exceptions to the new order.

A special three month notice to vacate may be given by or on behalf of discharged service members to enable them to re-occupy their dwellings in which they were living at the time of enlistment.

The order gives no protection to the ill-behaved tenant, one who is obnoxious, fails to pay rent, damages the accommodations or fails to keep to the terms of his contract. The order does not apply to light house-keeping, boarders or roomers, summer cottagers, or a tenant who holds a lease for a fixed term of five months or less.

Orioles Score 8-3 Win As Camp Girls Falter

By ORVILLE GANTON

With Phil Osborne's seven-hit pitching and their infield clicking on all fours, Orioles took their last scheduled game with the Army by a score of 8-3. Orioles 12 hits, Army 7 hits; that just about tells the story. It was another well-played game with Schroder and company right in there battling until the last dog was hung. Schroder pitched well enough but her pals kept popping Osborne's high floater up in the air to the infielders.

With the exception of a three-base clout by Schroder and two solid singles by little Sue Kalgan, Army's seven hits were very scratchy. Clarke and McCarger are in a prolonged batting slump and the rest of the team are not hitting their weight.

Orioles are beginning to show results from their batting drill. Mary Osborne snapped out of her slump with two for three, one a triple which drove in two runs. Ruth Armitage had two for four. "Happy" Bennett and Phil Pegg stole the show in the field. Bennett threw out Mulreid on a fielding gem. Pegg pulled down some hard smashes in center field; she is fast developing into the league's best outfielder. Forhan and Butler handled the game very satisfactorily.

On Monday evening the C.W.A.C. squeezed Cardinals out by a 10-0 count in a game that featured smart hurling by Ann Schroder and sensational fielding by Winnie DeLahaye. Despite this setback, Cardinals are still flying high in the league standing. However, they are not yet in by any means.

GARDEN PARTY HELD IN ARENA BY ST. JOHN'S

Winners of the draws at the St. John's church garden party held in the Memorial Arena last night are Jos. Brammer, silver fox fur; Chas. Simmons, Mary Morrison, Keswick, F. McConney, Toronto, Ken. Casservey, Orillia, Lena Paxton, Kettleby, E. Claremont, Fort Francis, Fern Burnett, R. R. 2, F. M. Phelan, Toronto, Mrs. H. Brice, all won five dollar prizes; Mrs. Stewart Martin, Mrs. James Lee and Mrs. Wm. Townsley, all of Newmarket, won ten dollar attendance prizes.

The garden party had been originally planned for last Wednesday on the church grounds but rainy weather forced its postponement. To guard against this misfortune the second time, the party was held in the Newmarket arena. This is the first garden party held in the arena and the sponsors expressed themselves as quite satisfied with the accommodations.

Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle said that the arena more than fulfilled its function as the scene for a garden party. "With some tidying up around the arena and planting of evergreen trees, the arena would be made most presentable," he said. He offered any assistance that might be required. "The arena has great possibilities for community functions and more attention should be directed towards its use," he added. He suggested a sign giving directions to the arena be erected.

The money raised at the garden party will be used to provide the church with an iron fireman and to meet the taxes of the rectory.

MR. AND MRS. F. GILL ESCAPE HOTEL FIRE

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gill, son-in-law and daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Henry Cotton, Newmarket, were two of the many guests and hotel staff members who were forced to flee the burning hotel, Benumaris, on Lake Muskoka early Sunday morning.

Mr. Gill was awakened by the sound of the flames crackling in the kitchen. He and Mrs. Gill helped awaken the guests and though they lost a trunk, were able to save some of their clothes and, incidentally, a pair of tennis rackets.

The tennis rackets have a rather interesting history. They were bought Friday through the classified columns of the Era and Express, sent by boat and train to the hotel on Saturday, used Saturday night, rescued from the fire and sent back to Newmarket on Sunday.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Main St. is so narrow that not even a greased pig could make time between Timothy and Milard on a Saturday night. Yet nothing is done about it. The widening of Main St. has been discussed a dozen times, in council, in business men's meetings, and heaven knows how often it has been the topic of street corner conversation. But with all this talk, nothing is ever done.

Still cars rub fenders, trucks block traffic, and it takes 20 minutes to drive three blocks. No wonder business for Newmarket is lost when potential customers take to the side streets or else waste precious gasoline detouring around the town rather than be caught in the Main St. traffic jam.

The end of hostilities in Europe forecasts provision of more gasoline for motorists. Newmarket is on a main highway leading towards the heavily populated shores of Lake Simcoe. It is a shopping centre for much of the traffic that uses the highway. Is the town going to encourage that business with a wider main thoroughfare or is it going to continue to discourage it with a narrow Main street and inadequate parking facilities?

Main St. is a traffic hazard. What pedestrian has not witnessed the near escapes of the bicyclist when crowded to the side of the road by trucks? What driver has not crossed his fingers when meeting a car going in the opposite direction and both sides of the street lined with parked cars? It has been luck and luck only that has postponed a serious accident.

There is an 18-inch margin on either side of Main St. which could be taken out at very little cost. This would widen the street by at least three feet and provide a temporary measure of relief. It has also been suggested that the old Metropolitan right-of-way be used to provide a detour around Main St., with provision for ample parking facilities in the market square and along the sides of the road. And if the town is prepared to make permanent improvements, why not tear out the block of buildings between Botsford and Timothy Sts., on the west side, and convert the area into a square with shops on four sides and parking space in the middle? These things are all possible if the citizens of Newmarket will determine to improve their town.

Let's face it. This is an age of high speed transportation by road. The horse and buggy days are gone and will not return. Newmarket has a serious traffic problem on its hands, one which will be aggravated with the passage of time. Every year that passes without something being done to alleviate this problem will make it that much harder when at last there is no choice but to do something.

The towns which are able to meet the conditions forced upon them by an age of motor-transportation will prosper. Those which do not, and Newmarket is still in the latter category, can only fall behind. The time for action is now.

WHY NOT NEWMARKET TOO?

As the summer season enters its last half, our neighboring municipalities are beginning to buzz with plans for the "biggest and bestest" of fall fairs. Bolton has chosen the last week in September for its fair while Cookstown, Markham, Woodbridge and Schomberg have set dates in early October. It is unfortunate that Newmarket, which used to have a fall fair of considerable reputation, is not included in the list. The fair grounds are now being used for training purposes by the army and it is doubtful whether the grounds will ever be restored for their original purpose. Despite that handicap, if the citizens of Newmarket wished to put on a fair, they have all the other requirements on hand.

The Memorial Arena could be used to house exhibits and so could the town hall. A canopy of some sort could be placed in the market square for outside exhibits. The Lions park and the Stuart Scott grounds are ready for use. A carnival and midway could be set up on the school grounds and perhaps the Lions club would permit use of the park facilities by children.

The bowling club might plan a large tournament for the fair period. The Newmarket bowlers have quite a reputation for excellence and the greens are well-known. The bowlers would have very little trouble getting entries for such a competition. The baseball teams could lend a hand. The district play-off so much mentioned lately could be held as part of the fair program.

With the new bandstand ready, a music festival might be arranged. There is plenty of talent in the district and the park makes an ideal setting for such a contest. Newmarket boys' band would be on hand for evening concerts.

The Horticultural Society might be approached and flower and vegetable judging contests arranged through it. The society has extended considerable encouragement to gardeners, both young and old, and a fair with the results of the society's work on display would help it in its work of beautifying the town. Other talent is abundant. We have painters and wood carvers galore. Products of home handicraft, such as hooked rugs, would make colorful exhibitions. And never let us forget the pie and cake contests. Preserving has been limited because of sugar rationing but enough fruit has been put down to tempt the taste of any man. Newmarket housewives need bow to no one in that department.

A fair in Newmarket need not be large nor pretentious to be enjoyable. Horse races would be out for the lack of a track. Stock judging, too, would be handicapped through lack of facilities, but even without these items, enough remains to make a fair a success.

A fall fair is one of the best ways of putting a town on the map. The council has at various times discussed ways of giving Newmarket more publicity in the hopes of bringing more business to the town. A fall fair would more than accomplish this. The goodwill accruing from a fair, properly presented, is a valuable asset for any town to have. And not the least of the advantages is the pleasure had by the participants.

WE CAN ALWAYS PLAN

This is hardly the time to mention it, the weather being what it is, but isn't it around now that the host smiles at his guest in a rueful manner and says "We had so much planned for the summer, but somehow, we never seem to get around to doing it." And then as an after thought, "My, how the time does fly."

A young couple, friends of ours, went through the above preliminaries the other night and then told us that they had intended to become expert tennis players this summer. They had started planning in the winter. They were going to devote an hour each afternoon to learning the game. It seems however, that the first afternoon, they played on a court adjoining one where four bright young things were battling the ball around in the nearest doubles match to be seen outside of Forest Hill. This breezy efficiency on the part of youth made our friends so self conscious of their own inexperience, that after a half-hour of bumbling the ball, they left the court and have not gone back since.

Right now, they are busy planning for an hour of skiing each afternoon of the winter. "An hour, a day on the hickory slats and we'll be entering the Ontario championships," they claim. All of which brings us to recognition of how very fortunate we are in that we live in a weather zone that provides such a range of variety. In the oppressive heat of summer, there is some relief in thoughts of winter coolness. Contrariwise, we can plan in the winter for an hour of tennis once the summer comes.

ON THE AIR

Baseball (hard variety) fans must be enjoying the broadcasting efforts of Joe Crysdale on behalf of Toronto's entry in the International League. One old time follower of the game was chuckling to us about Joe's efforts in connection with Toronto's games played away from home.

This old timer gives Joe and his between innings partner, Hal Kelley, a high rating for their work on the home games. At Maple Leaf Stadium in Toronto, Joe sees every move made on the playing field.

When it's a poor game Joe, like his hockey broadcasting opposite number, Foster Hewitt, makes it more fun to listen than to see the game. Even when it's a good game Joe makes it a close choice between seeing and hearing.

But when the Leafs leave Toronto and Joe no longer sees them he rises to the heights. His factual material is the play by play report received over the telegraph wire. His total material includes his intimate knowledge of players, parks, baseball strategy and crowd reactions.

Here's the stretch! Here's the throw! Ball! Too high. Ball one.

Hard hit ground ball going down toward second! Thoele is over for it—has it. A lovely stop! And a clothes line throw to Harry Davis. Runner's out! That Baltimore crowd is groaning with disappointment.

Over the wire Joe probably got no more than this: Ball One. Batter grounds out to Thoele. But a little bit goes a long way when a good broadcaster serves it up with dramatic embellishments. A few nights ago Joe and partner, Hal, added a description of the Buffalo ball park which was so good that cigar smoke and frankfurter steam almost came out of the radio.

In Passing

Tuesday was hot enough to make any man wipe his brow once. But Navy Minister Douglas Abbott must have wiped his brow twice. The Dominion election recount in Montreal St. Antoine-Westmount gave him a margin of 60 votes over his nearest opponent. Out in Melville, Sask., Agriculture Minister James Gardiner probably massaged his brow several times, and then said "whew!" Of course it's hot on the prairies, but the Gardner recount margin was exactly 28.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

MOST TRULY UNION

Once upon a time to this green and pleasant country of Pleasantville, Pine Orchard, Cedar Valley and thereabouts, came pioneers, sturdy folk, with strong religious convictions—and they were of the Society of Friends.

They built their homes plain and sturdy and then came what to them was of paramount importance, the building of a house, equally plain, wherein to worship God in their own manner.

With none of the accompaniments, stained windows and soft light and rich organ music and hearty singing which we of other denominations feel are a necessity to our worship, they built and for many years worshipped.

Gradually conditions changed and the building stood empty, then was leased to the Pine Orchard community and used for suppers and entertainments and conferences. But all this time it was steadily deteriorating. Much was said and planned about making it a community hall, but all these plans stopped short of fulfillment.

Then into our midst came Rev. R. R. McMath who saw in the dilapidated wreck possibilities for a truly union house of worship. The other small meeting house used as the Union church was fast becoming untenable and so, with not much but faith—and what can faith not accomplish—and a band of voluntary—if somewhat scared at their undertaking—helpers, he proceeded to try fitting dream to reality.

Amazingly, money came and help from many sources. The men from Vandorf helped put on the roof, thus saving the interior through the bitter winter.

As the spring came the work was resumed and carried on to completion in spite of the difficulties attending war time shortages and adverse weather.

And so time went on, and on the morning of July 15 I said to my husband, "Today we go to the opening and dedication of the Pine Orchard Union church," and in spite of frowning skies and vicious spits of rain, we joined the cavalcade of cars from town and country toward Pine Orchard. What a contrast even the outside of the building presented from the old tumble down building which for so many years had been an eyesore.

A neat cream colored structure with softly colored windows met the eye and a hymn, with truly carillon effect, came sweetly to our ears as we walked toward the church.

As we entered the vestibule a feeling of peace and contentment seemed to permeate the building. We had not seen the interior at any stage of the proceedings, so perhaps the transformation struck us with even greater force.

The soft cream colored walls and paneled ceiling lit by leaded colored glass windows met the eye pleasantly. The chancel—the entrance a pointed arch—contained a very special pulpit. This pulpit, which the guest speaker, Rev. M. L. Sanderson of Toronto, spoke of as "being one of the nicest he had seen," was made from the wood of the old organ which had stood unheeded for many years in a corner of the meeting house. But the entrance to the chancel was unique. The pointed arch was formed of two heavy dead black

MEN FOR HOME BUILDING MUST BE SECURED

Home building is highly essential to overcome pressing housing shortages, and to provide dwellings for the Forces as discharged.

Shortages of workers for building homes and for producing the building materials are threatening to impede Canada's program for the construction of 50,000 homes as soon as possible.

All men experienced in home building or in producing building materials, who are not now working in either of these industries, are urged to apply to the nearest office of the National Employment Service immediately.

Men experienced at home building or producing supplies, if now in other essential work, will be given permits to work at jobs which will assist the house building program.

All men, not now at house building nor producing supplies, who can fill a job in this program, are urged to answer this call.

Apply at once at the nearest office of the National Employment Service.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION

(Continued From Page 1) to go to the military camp (he's in the army) so we started to walk, there was only one way that we could get out and that was to head for the south shore.

I wish you could have seen the cars and people. By this time it was coming over the radios for those who could to evacuate and all others to stay out of houses and leave all the windows and doors open. We left our open and unlocked and had only the clothes on our backs—no coats, only Art's suit coat. Poor little Bucky was so scared he was walking out ahead and hurrying us all on. We had just come out of the city when the second big explosion came. We were down in a gully and it was wooded on all sides so we didn't feel the concussion too badly but everything shook and of course we lay down on the ground. So that settled it. We didn't lose any time getting out of Halifax. We must have walked about three miles with cars passing us full of people. Finally a couple of chaps picked us up and it seemed that we were lucky because they were going to the south shore and we went down to a little place called Mahone Bay where Art travels and they took us in there.

There was another bad explosion at one o'clock and the worst of all was at four in the morning. We were 80 miles away from Halifax and it shook the building like an earthquake. The last one was at nine o'clock in the morning but they still expected the big one to go sometime that day but the wind took the fire the other way and they were able to get it under control. We couldn't even get a telegram or call through to Halifax until Friday.

Nobody knows what the poor souls went through in Halifax that night. They were bad enough, the two we felt, and I'm thankful we weren't there for any more.

In Memoriam

Adams—In loving memory of Edmund Adams, Sr., who died July 22, 1943.

Rest comes at length, tho' life be long and dreary; The day must dawn and dark-some nights be past. All journeys end in welcome to the weary And heaven, the heart's true home, will come at last. Ever remembered by wife and grandchildren.

Gleave—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Pte. Don Gleave, killed in action with the Essex Scottish in Normandy, July 29, 1944.

We often think we see his smiling face As he bade his last goodbye And left his home forever In a distant land to die. Ever remembered by mother and dad, sister, Jean, brothers, Bill and Alan (both overseas).

Gleave—In proud and loving memory of our dear brother and uncle, Pte. Don Gleave, killed in action with the Essex Scottish in Normandy, July 29, 1944.

Nothing but memories as we journey on, Longing for a smile from a loved one gone; None knows the depth of our deep regret, But we remember when others forget.

Always remembered by sister, Mary, and Len, overseas, and children.

Rose—In loving remembrance of Mrs. Sophia Perry Rose, who passed away July 24, 1941.

God knew that she was suffering, That the hills were hard to climb, So He closed her weary eyelids And whispered "Peace be thine."

Away in the beautiful hills of God, By the valley of rest so fair, Some time, some day, we know not when, We will meet our loved one there.

Ever remembered by husband, son and family.

Sutton—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, L. Cpl. Howard Sutton, B70182, Royal Regt. of Canada, who died on active service in Normandy, July 27, 1944.

We cannot seem to realize or know the reason why A lad with so much life ahead should so soon have to die. Within our hearts we'll always keep a special place for you And try to do our best in life as you would want us to. Sadly missed by mother, dad, sisters and brother.

Sweet—In loving memory of a dear father, Wilson Sweet, who passed away July 28, 1925. There is never a day that passes by But our thoughts reach out to you; Never a joy that comes to us But we wish you could share it too. And somehow, as years pass onward And memory's riches grow, More tender still the love we hold For the dearest dad we know. A loving father, one of the best, Grant him, dear Father, heavenly rest. Lovingly remembered by his daughter, Dorothy, Emerson and family.

Woodruff—In loving memory of Wm. Henry Woodruff, who died July 24, 1936. There's a mother who misses you sadly, And finds the time long since you went; And I think of you daily and hourly And try to be brave and content. But the tears that I shed in silence, As I breathe a sigh of regret; For you were mine and I remember, Though all the world forgets. Sadly missed by mother.

THE WAKE-ROBIN

By GOLDEN GLOW

In a delightful letter the other day, one of my readers asked me to write some soon like I did awhile ago about flowers. She asked me if I'd tell her again which of the spring flowers I said was called the Wake Robin and how it came to have such an attractive name.

I did not realize that I haven't been writing lately about birds and flowers for I am just as interested as ever. Perhaps I should include my four-footed friends as well for as always I keep a good sized pan of fresh water for my doggie boy-friends—and it is almost laughable to see how many avail themselves of it. I have seen them "queue up", waiting their turn for a good cool drink of well water. I keep it standing on the cement outside the kitchen window and many a smile I have all to myself at the antics the little creatures perform.

The other day I saw Father Robin take five or six baths while trying to persuade Baby Robin to try it. Such a splashing and cooing. It was pretty to see, but Papa Robin got quite exasperated at Junior and finally gave him up as a bad job. The blackbirds are the funniest, most interesting and so knowing. The way Mother Blackbird teaches the young ones to soak their crusts in the water until they are soft shows they have intelligence.

The sparrows, too, love to have a bath—but I think I enjoy those saucy, squealing blackbirds best of all. To see them line up waiting their turn for a bath is so comical and if one stays flapping around too long he is told about it in no uncertain terms and pushed out unceremoniously!

But I started to answer the query about the flower we so often call the Wake Robin. It is just another name for our lovely, white trillium, Ontario's emblem, the white lily that flowers earliest of all in the spring. It quite often blooms while there is snow in the fence corners and at the time the first robin makes his appearance. It is supposed to inspire the robin to sing his lovely spring song. And what on earth is more welcome to our anxious ears than the robin's caroling? That is how the trillium came to be called by this pretty name, as if the trillium wakes the robin to song.

So many of our national wild flowers have "nick names". If I may use the word. Indian turnip or Jack-in-the-Pulpit is Calla Lily—but what child would want to give it the proper botanical name? The adder tongue is really the yellow lily. Squirrel's corn we call the lady slipper or Dutchman's breeches. There is another lady slipper besides the squirrel's corn but this one grows in the swamps. It is the wild orchid—the lady slipper is pink and the mossassin flower is yellow and they are ever beautiful! But they are carnivorous. They are made attractive in order to entice insects to enter the long calyx. They slip in easily enough but when they attempt to climb out they find their way barred by downward pointing hairs and a sticky substance that impedes their passage. It is called by another more suitable name, a name that certainly describes it—the Venus fly trap.

I have been in the swamp where they grow—and I assure you it is some jaunt! You need rubber boots and plenty of mosquito deterrent. You must not be nervous if you see a water snake for that is the only way you'll ever see these lovely flowers blooming, by going into the places where they grow. In the swamp also is the huntsman's cup or the pitcher plant. The flower stands straight up from a whorl of green, pitcher-like leaves, and each pitcher contains water. They say if a person got lost in a swamp and there were plenty of these pitcher plants growing there he need never die of thirst for since he could not drink the swamp water he could drink from the little pitchers of this peculiar plant. And so it is called the huntsman's cup.

There! Perhaps I'd better stop for this week. You see, when I get started on a subject I love so well I am apt to overdo it. Before I end, however, I want to mention one more and it is queer how your mind can travel down the years in one instant of time! It was one world—I won't ask you to guess—I'll just tell you, for you may not have ever read the Uncle Wiggley stories to your family when they were small, and I really do not know if the Uncle Wiggley stories are still beloved by the small folks. The one word is Pipsissewa, one of the characters in Uncle Wiggley. It is just the Indian name for wintergreen. Oh dear, and speaking of Indian names reminds me of the hard-to-find Indian pipe—that pure white flower that grows on decayed logs. It really does resemble a pipe. We found some beauties once out in the lovely Vivian woods. Dear me, I'm all wound up—I really will have to call a halt. My friend did not expect me to write all this in answer to her query about the Wake Robin—or maybe she did!

PETER M. ARNOLD, 72, DIES AT QUEENSVILLE

Peter M. Arnold, Queensville, passed away Thursday, July 19, after a week's illness. He suffered a heart attack last February but seemed to recover somewhat before his last illness.

He was 72 years old, having been born in Scott township July 6, 1873. He lived there nine years before moving to Union Street with his parents, the late Alexander and Mrs. Arnold. In 1902 he married the former Elizabeth Cunningham. He farmed for 40 years on the same place, improving his holdings with the construction of new buildings.

He was a member of the board of trustees of S. S. 8, East Gwillimbury, for 11 years. A member of Queensville United church, he was on the church board. In the Methodist days when Keswick and Ravenshoe were included with Queensville, Sharon and Hope in one circuit, he was secretary of the missionary society.

He was interested in Red Cross work, as well as in child welfare. Only three years ago he retired from active farming and moved into the village to make his home on Mill Street.

Following the service in Queensville United church on July 21, interment was in Queensville cemetery. Pallbearers were Wm. McGill, Wm. Crouth, Titus Peregrine, Gordon Stevens, Wm. Eves and Max Ball. The floral tributes, expressing esteem and sympathy, were numerous and beautiful.

Mr. Arnold is survived by his widow, two children, Vera and Irving, three sisters, Mrs. Wilmet Fairbairn (Mary), Mrs. John Fairbairn (Lydia), Mrs. Howard Fife (Sarah), all of Sharon, and a brother, Roy, Newmarket. Another brother and another sister, William and Martha, predeceased him some years ago.

Friends from a distance who attended the service were Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bell and son, Donald, Barrie, and Mrs. Isa Ferguson, Richmond Hill.

HAS OPERATION

Mrs. Irwin Collings underwent an appendix operation at York County hospital last week. Her condition is reported as favorable.

A pulmonary tuberculosis X-ray of federal government civil servants in Ottawa disclosed that of 36,298 examined, 868 showed signs of early tubercular infection, and 120 were found to require sanatorium treatment.

Aurora Climbs Out Of Hole Hands Defeat To Markham

By virtue of two wins over Markham juveniles last week, Aurora seniors got on the right side of the ledger for the first time this year, while Aurora juniors balanced their account by defeating Markham bantams.

On Wednesday, July 18, Aurora bantams slugged out a 15-3 win over Markham in the southern village. Keith Kyle pitched a nice game and Ronnie Simmons, Jim McDonald and Kyle banged out homers. Andy Closs drove home three runs with a timely double. Mac Urquhart and Jim Cook replaced Jim Wilson and John King in the line-up.

Last Friday night Aurora took a 9-7 win over the last place Markham seniors in a well-played game. Markham outthrew Aurora 7 to 5 but Simmons, on the mound for Aurora, kept the hits well scattered while Aurora clicked with hits, errors and walks at the right times. Loring Doolittle was the star for the locals both at bat and in the field.

The winning line-up was: Jim McDonald, c., Ron Simmons, p., Bill McGhee, 1b., Francis Cook, 2b., Gerry Simmons, s.s., Eric Smith, 3b., Don Holman, Bill Mundell and Loring Doolittle, outfield.

Forgie pitched a fine game for Markham but received poor support.

Wilfred Adams, history master at Aurora high school, is one of an international committee of five sitting in Toronto which is studying the treatment of American history given in text books at present being used in Canadian schools. There are two Canadians of whom Mr. Adams is one, the other being from Fredericton, N.B., and three American history teachers, two from Washington, D.C., and the other from Baltimore, Md. Dr. S. Harshorn is secretary of the committee. Text books from grade 6 to grade 13 are being studied.

The committee is part of the Canada-United States committee on education formed under the auspices of the Canada and Newfoundland Education association, the Canadian Teachers' Federation and the National Conference of Canadian Universities as well as similar groups in the United States. Simultaneously with the committee in Canada studying Canadian texts, and international text books, to find out what is taught in U.S. schools about Canada.

Both groups are entirely "unofficial" but aim to further better understanding between the two countries. They will summarize their reports, and it is presumed these will be referred to the proper educational authorities in both countries. Mr. Adams' appointment to the committee is an honor to the local school and he is enjoying his summer deep in Canadian history tomes, hoping to improve international understanding.

POSSE FINDS CHILD LOST FOR 12 HOURS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williamson of the 6th Concession of King had an anxious 12 hours last week, when their three-year-old daughter, Gloria, wandered away from home and disappeared in woods and heavy swampland. A posse of over 75 neighbors and friends was formed and combed the area thoroughly until the child was found about a mile from home none the worse for wear, except for severe scratches, and apparently not frightened. She disappeared at 11.15 a.m. and at midnight was safe with her parents.

AGE NO DETERRENT TO BOWLS ENTHUSIAST

A North York rink whose total ages exceeded 30 years, took part in the Century tournament for senior bowlers on Saturday in Toronto. They scored one win, but did not get in the prize winners. The rink was composed of George Sisman, Harry Teasdale, Art Atkinson of Aurora and J. O. Little of Newmarket. Mr. Sisman is the senior of the quartet and is the oldest member of the Aurora club.

Thos. Legge, Geo. Gilpin Celebrate Birthdays

Tomorrow two of North York's better known residents will celebrate birthdays. At Newmarket, Thomas Legge will celebrate his 84th birthday. Mr. Legge is a former reeve of King township and Aurora, and conducts an active insurance agency, driving his own car. His eldest son is Councillor E. M. Legge of King township, with whom he once sat in York County council. His son, however, became warden, an honor denied Mr. Legge before his retirement.

In King township on the outskirts of Aurora, George Gilpin, well-known district farmer, will celebrate his 79th birthday. He is in good health and keeps abreast of the affairs of the day.

Townfolk Entertain Convalescent Sailors From Eaton Hall Farm

Each week a number of wounded or convalescent sailors from Eaton Hall farm are being entertained in the homes of Aurora people and the experiment, now several months old, is widely popular both with hosts or hostesses and guests. Here is how the plan works out.

Mrs. J. P. Crysdale of the Aurora branch of the Navy League looks after the details. She has on hand a list of names of persons who have said they would like to entertain one or two boys for Sunday dinner but in addition to this list, persons who are particularly anxious to have the boys phone Mrs. Crysdale each week and tell her how many they can accommodate. She communicates with Eaton Hall farm, finds out how many boys want to come to Aurora, and if those who have telephoned are sufficient, they are obliged first. If more hostesses are needed she telephones those on the reserve list.

So far this summer supply and demand have been about equal and it has not been necessary to call the reserve numbers. For instance, last Sunday Barbara MacGirr and a group of Aurora young people entertained six sailors at a picnic. The week previous a Malcolm Richardson had eight for dinner and entertainment at his country estate and would have accommodated 20 if that number had been available to come.

"Those who have entertained the boys find them most interesting guests and not a single complaint has been received," Mrs. Crysdale said. "It is a splendid opportunity for Aurora and district people to show their appreciation of Canada's gallant sailors. The boys, especially those who, because of distance or having no immediate relatives, do not have weekend visitors, really appreciate a visit and a home-cooked meal. All one has to do is to call Aurora 148 by Friday noon of each week and advise how many guests they would like. We will do the rest."

Mrs. L. C. Lee is convener of the committee in charge and originally entertained the first group of sailors to come to Aurora. She is again acting as a supervisor at D'Arcy Crop Farms, Queensville, harvesting the fruit crop and so Mrs. Crysdale has taken over for the summer months.

Seek New Accommodation For Junior Classrooms

A meeting of representatives of the Aurora town council and Aurora public school board last week discussed the means of accommodating the junior school rooms this year. The rooms were in Trinity Hall last year but it is generally felt other accommodation should be secured.

One of the plans discussed was the possibility of locating the school rooms in the upstairs of the old town hall building now occupied by the Aurora public library and the Aurora R.C.O.C. recreation room. The building is owned by the municipality. In that event, it was suggested the Aurora Public Library would move to the property at Mosley and Victoria Sts. known as Health Hall and presently occupied by Aurora Gospel church.

"Regardless of the fact that we may have to move elsewhere, Aurora Gospel church will carry on," D. M. Galbraith, a church elder, said. "We are monthly tenants of the school board and have not as yet received any notice to vacate. We would have to have a month's notice and I am hopeful that we will not have to move. I don't think any instructions have been issued as yet for us to move, which would mean any changes in our building would not be ready to accommodate the library when school would open."

"We are tenants of the town, in that the town supplies us the premises," Wilfred Adams, chairman of the public library board, said. "I have not discussed the matter with board members and would have to do so before announcing our position. I believe we will be ready to co-operate with the town in any reasonable way."

Clerk A. C. A. Willis said that no general meeting of council had as yet discussed the proposed plan and that no estimates as to any costs for alterations to the town hall to make class rooms possible had been secured to his knowledge. It is pointed out that it would be necessary to enlarge the present heating system in the town hall building if class rooms are to be provided there, while toilet and wash room facilities will also have to be installed, besides those already in the building. Fire escapes might also have to be provided, although in this respect, it is noted that there is little difference between the proposed site and the upstairs rooms in the present public school building. No playground facilities are available at the proposed location.

With funds being raised for a community war memorial, it is pointed out by some citizens that it has been the intention to house the Aurora Public Library in the proposed building and it is argued little if any expenditure should be made on Health Hall. The proposal will likely come before the first meeting of Aurora council in August, as well as any other alternative plans.

Mrs. William Case Has 75th Birthday Sunday

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. William Case, well-known Aurora resident, who celebrated her 75th birthday yesterday. Mrs. Case is a native of Port Perry and extremely active. She takes a keen interest in the affairs of the day. Her eldest son, Garfield Case, was elected member for North Grey riding in the federal house.

Earlier in the year, Mrs. Case went through the excitement of the North Grey by-election with her son, when Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton was defeated. A few weeks ago, PO Robert Case, a grandson, returned from overseas after being a prisoner of war, so Mrs. Case looks upon 1945 as a "big year" in her life.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Newmarket camp lacrosse team made its debut of the season last Friday night against a combined junior-senior Mimico team at the big suburban box which houses the Mimico and Lakeshore teams. As might be guessed the soldier boys went down to defeat 14-2 but not before they had won the respect of both their opponents and the fans. It was a case of more condition, younger legs and more competition for the winners.

Lieut. Logan, who is looking after the gutted stick artists from No. 23, expects to have a home game at the camp next week. The opposition will likely be provided by the Canadian armored corps team led by a former officer at Newmarket, Capt. Lew Cordingley. Capt. Cordingley once played for Weston and was also in the professional ranks. There are at least seven Ontario armored forces centres which are playing lacrosse this year.

Canada's national game is as per usual having a gala season over in the neighboring county of Peel where the Peel Lacrosse League is attracting big crowds, with Brampton, Northville, Cheltenham, Norval, Inglewood and Caledon in action. Joe Scherz, the classy junior defenceman from Milton who will likely see action this winter with Boston Bruins, keeps in shape playing for Norval. That centre can set an example for most small Ontario centres. Under the leadership of Rev. Leonard Self, there are organized teams in most sports, a fine community program and adequate and spacious playing fields including one of the finest lacrosse boxes in Ontario and plans are just getting started. Mr. Self gets out and plays with the boys, takes his coat off and goes to work on the building projects and has generally done a grand job with no strings attached.

Red Aikens, who played with Richmond Hill in tri-county box days (he was a particular bete noir for Bill Patrick) is with Nortonville and we see he gets his share of goals as he used to do. Jack Johnston is also listed as playing with Nortonville and we suspect that this is none of other than the same Jack Johnston who played defence for Aurora and later with Richmond Hill. Young Gowland, who played hockey for St. Andrew's College a couple of years ago, is playing with other teams in the group along with one of the well-known Creighton brothers.

Red Storey, former Barrie all-round athlete and perhaps best known for rugby with Toronto Argos and lacrosse with Orillia Terriers, is now one of the leading lacrosse referees in Quebec where a big year is being had by the senior circuit.

A memorial trophy has been provided by Richmond Hill lawn bowlers in memory of three of the late leading club members of other days, Albert Glass, George Wallwin and E. T. Stephens. The competition will be held August 6. The Hill club deserves credit for its enterprise.

Ace Yake, back from overseas, suggests it is time some of the sports fans in Aurora did something to honor the memory of such fine lads as Wes Heaney, Bruce Stiles, Jack Cowieson, Bob Turp, Bill Mugford and Bill Simmons who paid the supreme sacrifice in the fight for freedom. We think his suggestion has considerable merit and we shall be glad to hear from sports fans of the district on the subject. The same idea applies to all communities in North York. We know there will be big community efforts made but a little special something from the sports fans would be most timely. How about it fellows?

Claremont has arranged for a gala sports day on civic holiday with baseball, softball and soccer as the main attractions. Barrie stages a big regatta the same day (we saw it last year and it is well worth seeing). Don't forget the date is August 6.

Hon. Earl Rowe, genial member for Dufferin-Simcoe and well known throughout North York, has come back to harness racing with a bang this year and is doing his own driving. Earl has a new horse, Dorothy Vernon, which is one of the sensations of the current season and may well develop into the best horse in the history of the Rowe stables. In the 2.28 clash for three-year-olds at Orangeville, she came down in front in three straight heats against tough opposition to win $300 and the Goodwill Farm trophy (Maple). Now at Dufferin track, Dorothy Vernon is again making racing history and Earl is at the reins. It is one of the things we like to think about most in our way of life, that our members of parliament and leaders have the same ideas and common touch as those who elected them.

Turning from trotters and pacers to the so-called "sport of kings", we notice Joe McCallach, who trains John Stuart's jumpers, sustained a fractured shoulder as he was tossed from a nag at one of the New York tracks. Rheaperton, great Canadian five-year-old and pride of the Fred Schelke stables at Gormley, ran fourth in his first start at Garden City, N.Y., the track where the big horse sustained his leg injury last year. According to all reports, he is rounding into shape nicely and should shortly be able to enter the win column. Incidentally, next Monday Mr. and Mrs. Schelke celebrate their 29th wedding anniversary. Might be a good time for big Shep to show his stuff by way of a present of appreciation.

Elizabeth Arden is a name well known to women and by a good many husbands too and, we presume, a few sweethearts of the male variety. It will also be known more widely for those who follow racing for Mrs. E. Graham Lewis (her correct name), now in her eighth year as an owner of horseflesh, is the owner of Mist O' Gold, winner of the Eastview Stakes, Colony Boy, who is scheduled for fall clean-ups, and Beaugay (sounds like a perfume), the present leading two-year-old in the U.S.A.

Beaugay has won four straight and some $75,000. Last year Mrs. Lewis paid out $300,000 for some new horses and the large investment appears as if it will more than repay. The stables are known as Maine Chance. Incidentally one of the most interesting things about it all is that Elizabeth Arden was born Elizabeth Graham at Woodbridge in good old North York of a Scotch-Canadian family. Her success in the business, advertising, and racing world sets a shining example for those who say there's no such thing as the "golden touch".

Ajax soccer team, twice beaten by Newmarket camp soccer team last year, is practically an all-Claremont team which means the Pickering township centre can depend upon its own boys to form a first rate eleven no matter what the ultimate fate of war industries.

Doug James, coach of the Markham junior hockey team and an ex-Markham player, has gone over to England to join his wife as we predicted a few weeks ago. We understand he will do some overseas hockey promoting. When he was overseas with the R.C.A.F., Doug got in the ground-work. Those going overseas now as civilians, unless on a special government mission or having special drag, must assure the department of external affairs they intend to remain over there for a two-year period when it is expected normal traffic conditions may be resumed.

From out of the past we saw two familiar softball figures of other years recently. Remember Pee-Wee Simpson, the half-pint who hurried for the first softball team ever fielded at Newmarket camp? Well, the diminutive one can still toss the big apple effectively and is performing for camp headquarters team at Borden where he has been stationed ever since leaving No. 23 B.T.C.

Another ex-Newmarket player around is Blackie Hodge, the colored baseball and softball catcher. Hodge is also with camp headquarters and now plays the infield for the Borden boys.

Nels Findlay, the former Richmond Hill player, is pitching nice ball this season for Amalgamated Electric in the Toronto industrial intermediate A series. The electricians were champions last season. Findlay also performs for Roselawn seniors, the present leaders of the Wanless Park league, much to the delight of Charlie Ryan.

Len McMullen, another former Richmond Hill player, is not having much luck with his Unionville A.C. team in the Den-tonia senior league. At last accounts they had won but one start in 14 tries, although in many cases the margin was very slim. McMullen, however, could not be blamed, for aside from managerial duties, he played a three-star game.

Joint McComb appears to be pitching the best ball of his entire career this season and the wisecracks say it is because for the first time he is receiving grade A catching with Roy Murden giving him an edge over the "batter in most cases. We note Murden has broken into the Davisville league but that is no surprise for he is of Beaches league calibre.

Gordy Wright, who was on the mound for Ostranders when they defeated Newmarket, is the same lad who pitched tournament ball at Mount Albert, Laskay, Unionville, etc., in pre-war days. In the navy, Wright pitched in the Beaches league before enlisting and since the Davisville league is rated as B, there is quite a furor because he is an A calibre pitcher. Quite a bit of small potatoes, as the real difference lies not so much in the pitching as the fielding and hitting, as witness hurlers with the exception of Ecclestone and Turner, getting by nicely with better teams.

Bill Paisley, one of the best infielders to ever play for Newmarket camp, is now stationed at No. 28 B.T.C., Orillia, and is playing ball there. Murray Dewey, sensational young pitching star of Beaches and army fame, has been transferred from Brantford to Simcoe camp. Dan Vassell, former Aurora junior hockey player, later with Gravenhurst, Midland and Petawawa camp, was wounded overseas but is now recovered and stationed in England at Aldershot camp.

Gundar Haegg, the Swedish speedster, set a new world's record for the mile recently by lowering Arne Andersen's mark of 4.02.6 to 4.01.4, the fastest speed any human has ever been clocked in. Haegg, in his American appearances, never even came close to the marks he made in Sweden, which proves we know not what, except that if a four-minute mile is ever going to be made it looks like the Scandinavians have the formula for it.

Oshawa will re-enter the again.

Murray Clendening, former Stouffville hardballer now running a garage at Timmins, has been on holidays in the district

Doesn't play baseball any more though. Also saw Tubby Barrow, former Richmond Hill-Aurora hockeyist, and his bride from Winnipeg, where Barrow is stationed with the R.C.A.F. Claims he's retired from all sports now.

Don't forget that big carnival being staged on August 1 by the Aurora Lions. The Leos have done a grand job for kid hockey and kid baseball in Aurora, the same as the Lions clubs throughout the district. A street dance, lucky draws, etc., will be featured. See you there!

REMEMBER?
CONGRATULATIONS to Longmans Green for the success of their $1,000 Canadian Novel Contest which has been won by John Macdonald. This new Canadian writer received his degree from the University of Toronto in 1935, and at the outbreak of war joined the Canadian Navy as a rating, rising rapidly to his present rank of Lieutenant Commander. His prize novel, DARKLY THE RIVER FLOWS, is set against a background of Toronto and Lake Timagami, deals in passionate intensity with the sort of Canadians we all know, adds another milestone along the road of Canada's literary development.

SHORTS ON SPORTS

By ORVILLE GANTON

George Haskett has his juvenile hardballers a bang up second in the Lions' league standing with a fair chance of overhauling Milliken, the leaders.

Newmarket took a close one last Friday in Milliken. Our kids were down 5-1 in the second inning but they fought back gamely to get a 7-6 verdict over the classy leaders.

The team is strong through the middle with Winger catching, Broughton pitching, Rutledge at second and Don Brown in centre field.

Winger and Palmateer have been doing most of the hitting to date. Unfortunately Haskett will be without Palmateer for some time as he is going into hospital for an appendectomy.

A team will be selected from the entire league and entered in the Ontario Baseball Association playdowns.

Everything is hunky-dory in ladies' softball with the teams in the last half of the schedule and Frank Courtney's Cardinals out in front. The class of ball is improving and the attendance is standing up well.

Orioles and 23 B.T.C. look better every time out. They are providing stubborn opposition for the Cards. If "Bing" Caswell can tighten up Army's infield and Orioles pep up their batting they might yet cause plenty of gloom in the Red Birds' camp.

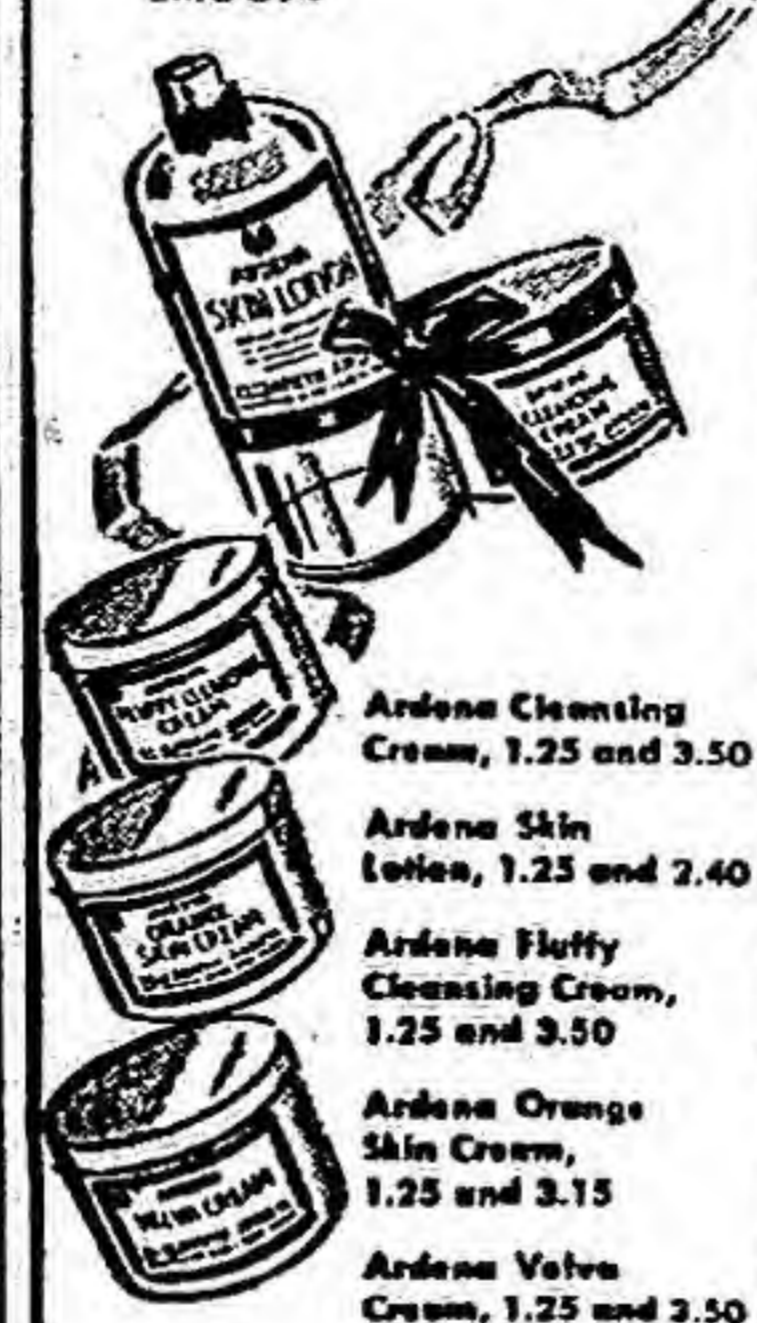

The league executive is endeavoring to arrange a post-season play-off series between all-star teams from Scarborough, South Yonge, Beeton, Alliston and Newmarket leagues.

As a rehearsal, Del Gibney is negotiating with a fast Beaches league team for an exhibition test game with an all-star cast of smoothies from this neck of the woods.

As a pre-game curtain raiser we suggest a tilt between a team from the Lions playground league and one from the younger fry of the town league.
